

They're Back! Hooray!

Hello Everyone,

Over the years we have had some beautiful products in our range but from the point of view of pure aesthetics, none come close to our favourite Organic bowls. The problem for us has always been demand outstrips supply of these beautiful items. Well some good news! we have a container of ceramics arriving this week that includes the full range of Organic Bowls in both GREY and CHARCOAL.

The Organic bowls in our stone range is available in four sizes 13cm, 16cm, 24cm and 40cm. The finish is a subtle glaze that is lovely to the touch. You can click here to order right now, be sure to log in at the checkout to access wholesale prices.

This latest shipment has also put us back in stock of Flinders Trays and the ever popular Flinders Pitcher.

Best wishes,
Helen Gill and David Hills

Places we love... a fabulous being, Deb Mclean.

"Busy being fabulous" is the blog of Melbourne Stylist Deb Mclean. Deb has been a friend of this... for many, many years and, as her blog suggests is one of the "busiest" ladies we know. She loves her work and is constantly on the go.

Deb has styled many shots for this... over the years. I first met Deb when she was travelling between Melbourne and New York busily styling on Home and Fashion assignments in both cities. As well as what she calls her "real job", styling, Deb has become an avid blogger and trend spotter. Her blog busybeingbeingfabulous.com is extremely popular and each edition is brimming with amazing images and inspiration for all decoration and design aficionados. The image at right is featured in Deb's latest issue. Click here to read .

Deb is also a published author having penned a title on another of her loves, cocktails! It is rumoured that she is writing her next book full of images taken totally with a polaroid camera.

Graphis our modern classic

The styling of the Graphis range is reminiscent of the art deco period, but execution is very contemporary. We're now making Graphis in Matt White, Matt Charcoal and Matt Grey with accessories to match.

The teapot pours beautifully and the handle and thumb rest mould perfectly in the hand. In this image we have seamlessly teamed the Graphis teapot, creamer and sugar with the teacups from the Lapsang range.

Like all this... ceramics, Graphis is totally dishwasher safe and intended to use every day. The matt finish softens over time developing a lovely time-worn patina.

You can see the whole Graphis story here - Prices Shown are RRP until you log in.

It's trade fair season !

Once again we are packing up for trade fair. This year you'll find this... design & living at stand X1818, at Reeds located at the Melbourne showgrounds. We have a good selection of new items to show you
